

Project: Avalanche Prevention Program

Recipient: Salt Lake County

Location: Salt Lake County, Utah

Purpose: The requested funds will serve a critical need for Salt Lake County to expand the avalanche control program and install additional Gaz-Ex devices and supporting gas storage systems. Avalanche control is essential for the safety of residents, employees and visitors in the Little Cottonwood Canyon, which is the location of several major ski resorts. Ensuring that the canyon remains open is also critical to the local economy which sees hundreds of thousands of visitors annually. This project will save money while increasing efficiency, all the while protecting the property and lives.

Amount: $1,000,000
